PEACE REGION PALEONTOLOGISTS LOOKING FOR SUPPORT

The Peace Region Paleontology Research Center talked with the Fort St John City Council about their plans to preserve a large dinosaur track site near Williston Lake.

Now with the blessing of the Peace Region leaders the Center has started an online crowd funding effort to help in their support of preserving the track site. "We're looking to jump off this project either in late June or early July," said Rich McCrea, Lead Curator. "We need to achieve some level of funding success if we're going to get the basic equipment to do this project for another year." In the long run, they hope to turn this site into an outreach centre and tourist destination for the Peace Region.

The Paleontologists will meet with community leaders in Taylor and the Peace River Regional District in the next few weeks.

BALTIMORE ORIOLES DEFEAT WHITE SOX WITH NO FANS IN STANDS

Baltimore Orioles celebrates an 8-2 victory against Chicago White Sox in the strangest game in baseball history. No fans attended, however there was cheering from beyond the center-field wall when Chris Davis hit a three-run homer to give Baltimore a 4-0 lead in the first inning.

Fans watched from behind the iron gate that stands behind the flag court and were lined up on the deck of a hotel that overlooks the stadium.

Baseball officials decided to play the games behind closed doors because of a wave of looting and rioting around Camden Yards that broke out amid tensions between residents and police. The turmoil prompting a citywide curfew came hours after the funeral of Freddie Gray, a 25-year-old black man who sustained a fatal spinal cord injury while in police custody.
