

Online Practice Tests at Learning Express Library

- Start at the Brookings School Website (www.brookings.k12.sd.us)
- Click on Library Searches (left side of page), then High School Library
- Click on South Dakota State Library (with a picture of a torch), bottom row, second box from right
- Go down to Learning Express Library (list is in alphabetical order)
- If you are at home, you may need to login (just to get access to the page, different from registering for the site) using the school library's login, 21583000060400, password Brooking (note, no "s")
- At school, the page should open without needing a login, and the top should say Brookings High School.
- Click on Register (top right). At the Learning Express Library page, everyone will need to create a login and password as a new user. Write down your login and password so that you will have it to use again. Teachers who want to use this site should register themselves to see how the site works. Students should register to access the tests and to save progress and results.
- Find the practice tests that you would like to take. ACT and AP courses are under College Preparation or College Prep Center. GED is under High School Equivalency Center. You can also search for your test.

Teachers may want to help students keep track of logins and passwords. Many other tests are available at this site: job preparation, test taking skills, college placement tests, and review tests.

The state library can also be accessed at <http://library.sd.gov/>, then click on Online Resources at the top of the page, and then "A-Z Listing" to get to the list of State Library Databases, then click on "L" to get to Learning Express Library.

AP Biology and AP US History also have low-tech e-books available. They are basically flash cards, but they would be helpful for studying.
