The Honorable Robert Scott
United States House of Representatives
203 Ford House Office Building
Washington, DC 20002

Dear Congressman Scott:

On behalf of the National Association of Federally Impacted Schools (NAFIS), we write to express our support for the Rebuild America's Schools Act of 2017. NAFIS represents the 1,200-plus Impact Aid-recipient school districts nationwide that educate more than 10 million students. The Impact Aid program replaces the lost local tax revenue associated with the presence of non-taxable Federal property such as military installations, Indian lands, low-rent housing, national parks, and laboratories.

NAFIS is especially pleased to see that funding for Impact Aid is a priority under Title IV. Federally impacted districts face the unique challenge of limited local tax revenue (and in turn, limited or non-existent bonding capacity) due to the presence of nontaxable Federal property. Congress recognized in 1950 that the Federal Government had an obligation to help meet the local responsibility of financing public education in areas impacted by a Federal presence, including funds for school construction. That same recognition holds true today, however annual appropriations for Impact Aid Construction (Section 7007) have been stagnant at around $17 million for over a decade.

A $100 million infusion of funds, as proposed, could be easily allocated – the program and staff capacity already exist – to address the significant backlog of facility needs. School districts are educating students in facilities with health and safety code violations, or that are more than 100 years old. Specific needs include overcrowding, tornado shelters, leaky roofs, cracked foundations, expired boilers, and more. It is unimaginable that school leaders must decide between allocating funds to addresses these problems and teaching and learning.

We look forward to continue working with you and your colleagues to identify the cost of capital construction needs for federally impacted schools, and to address the unmet needs with adequate Federal funds. Thank you for making these school districts, and the students they serve, a priority.

Sincerely,

Hilary Goldmann
