

Kobe University
Graduate School of Law

Xiamen University
School of Law

Kobe Seminar on International Law

Beyond UNCLOS: International Law Issues in Maritime Dispute Settlement

17 January 2018

Venue: Middle Meeting Room, 3rd Floor in the 2nd Building
Graduate School of Law, Kobe University

* * *

15:30-16:00

Dai Tamada (Professor, Kobe University, Graduate School of Law)

“Doctrine of Estoppel Applied in the UNCLOS-DS Mechanism:
New Development of Case Law?”

16:00-16:30 Discussion

* * *

16:30-17:00

Cai Congyan (Professor, Xiamen University, School of Law)

“From the DOC to COC: New Legal Order in the South China Sea
after China-Philippines Arbitration?”

17:00-17:30 Discussion

* * *

Cai Congyan is a professor of public international law at Xiamen University School of Law. His teaching and research fields cover Public International Law, International Investment Law and Chinese International Law. He was a Fulbright Scholar and Global Research Fellow at New York University School of Law (2011-2012), Visiting Professor at Columbia Law School (2014), Visiting Professor at Kobe University School of Law (2015, 2016, 2017) and Senior Research Fellow at Humboldt University School of Law (2016), etc. His papers have been widely published in top Chinese and English law journals.

No previous reservation is needed.

Contact: Dai Tamada (tamada@port.kobe-u.ac.jp)