

Engaging Community. Narrating Change.

You're invited!

March 22, 2018

5:30PM-8:00PM

First Congregational Church

1000 Cooper Street
Memphis, TN 38104

Registration Fee:

$20/person

Register here!

Early Bird Registration is only $10 through March 12!

Who Should Attend?

Individuals and organizations who are:

- Committed to helping neighborhoods grow
- Seeking pathways that promote connections and engagement
- Eager for new perspectives and approaches to strengthen communities
- Looking for ways to get started, gain momentum or renew community partnerships

Limited scholarships are available.
Contact us for more information.

Experience how neighborhoods can come together for change.

The work of “neighborhood” is a complex and life-long journey with relationships at the core. It is work that is challenged by the era of enormous isolation in which we live and by an overdependence on systems and institutions to solve problems and meet needs.

Neighborhood is fostered by a culture of care that emerges when neighbors are connected and communities are restored.

Center for Transforming Communities invites you to join with others across the Midsouth as we experience a conversation that inspires possibilities for the future of our city—a future built on community and a shared vision for the common good.

Hosted by:

CENTER
FOR TRANSFORMING COMMUNITIES

Our guide for the evening will be Cormac Russell. Cormac is a faculty member of the Asset-Based Community Development (ABCD) Institute at DePaul University. He has over 20 years of experience, across 30 countries, training communities in ABCD and other strength-based approaches. You can learn more about Cormac via his Ted Talk: “Sustainable Community Development: From What’s Wrong to What’s Strong.”

For more information, visit www.ctcmidsouth.org or call 901-324-3005.