The partnership was funded by a $1.25 million grant from the city, in order to stabilize the lives of the homeless through an innovative volunteer case management program. The funding comes through reimbursement of expenses. The fiscal agent, The Beacon, collects applicable expenses from the partners and submits them to the City for review. All expenses under the guidelines used for Case Management are then reimbursed back to The Beacon, and then to the collaborative partners.

Brigid's Hope provides support and assistance for homeless women in transition from Texas prisons and jails. Brigid's Hope works to reduce the number of women returning to the criminal justice system by giving our clients the tools they need to become self-sufficient and secure a safe and productive life. This intensive year-long program includes housing (secured through Dunn Center partner, New Hope Housing, Inc.), material support, counseling, service coordination, case management, and concentrated support and guidance through volunteer mentors. The mentor relationship creates a connection and an environment where healing and restoration can take place for the women we serve. Though small Brigid's Hope makes big changes and a very deep impact, not only in the very vulnerable women it directly serves, but also in the community through these women. Since 2002 no Brigid's Hope graduate has returned to prison.
