Wolf Design Studio Featured in Designscapes Coffee Table Book

One of only 11 US Architectural Designers selected for inclusion in Beyond Black's 2017 Designscapes, which Focuses on High End Architecture from Around the World

COSTA MESA, Calif., Nov. 27, 2017 – Wolf Design Studio has been featured in Beyond Black's Designscapes coffee table book. Designscapes is focused on exceptional architectural design from around the world, with over 20 countries represented. Wolf Design Studio, a boutique full-service architectural design firm, whose innovative high-end custom designs have been featured by Architectural Digest and Curbed LA, is one of less than a dozen architectural design firms from the US that were selected.

"We are so pleased to be included in this year's Designscapes publication as one of the high-end residential firms singled out for recognition," according to the firm's owner, Derek Wolf. "At Wolf Design Studio, we pride ourselves on pushing the envelope of indoor-outdoor living, where homes are no longer just a shelter from the environment but a part of it."
