

Residential Owner's Policy Coverage Comparison Chart

At Rainier Title we want to make sure you have the information you need to make an informed decision when choosing your title insurance policy. The attached chart compares the title insurance protection provided to a residential purchaser by three typical policy forms:

ALTA Standard Owner's Policy - The first column shows the protection provided by the basic ALTA Owner's Policy, including the protection provided by the Homeowner's Additional Protection Endorsement. This endorsement only applies to owner-occupied residential property and has a limited definition of "structures."

ALTA Extended Owner's Policy - The second column shows the protection provided by the ALTA Owner's Policy when it is upgraded to provide extended coverage. The Schedule B is different than the basic policy, without exceptions against loss due to off-record matters and survey matters listed at the bottom of the chart. If not otherwise excluded from coverage, some of these off-record matters and survey matters are covered in part by the Homeowner's Policy and by the Homeowner's Additional Protection Endorsement attached to the basic Owner's Policy.

ALTA Homeowner's Policy - The third column shows the protection provided by the newest policy form designed for residential properties. The ALTA Homeowner's Policy is quite different. Some risks are covered even if they occur after the policy date. Some risks are covered even if the matter is listed as an exception. This policy applies to one-to-four family residential structures, but does not require the insured to occupy the property. The following deductibles and maximum liability amounts limit certain covered risks:

- COVERED RISK 16: Deductible applies, the lessor of 1% or $2,500 of the liability under the policy. Maximum liability for this coverage is $10,000.
- COVERED RISK 18: Deductible applies, the lessor of 1% or $5,000 of the liability under the policy. Maximum liability for this coverage is $25,000.
- COVERED RISK 19: Deductible applies, the lessor of 1% or $5,000 of the liability under the policy. Maximum liability for this coverage is $25,000.
- COVERED RISK 21: Deductible applies, the lessor of 1% or $2,500 of the liability under the policy. Maximum liability for this coverage is $5,000.
