

KEYS: (Suggested answers only)

1. Scientific studies illustrate that renewable energy can produce power more intensely and sustainably than traditional fossil fuels.
2. Sociological researches show that children who attend nurseries demonstrate better communication and problem-solving skills than those receiving home education.
3. On a global scale, cyber-bullying on social media is an increasing cause of depression and even suicide among teenagers.
4. In many famous tourist attractions in Southeast Asia, the increasing number of foreign tourists leads to the increasing amount of waste and noise.
5. In London, drivers who wish to enter the city center during rush hours have to pay a fee, in an attempt to reduce the number of private vehicles and eventually solve the issue of traffic congestion.