

CHARTS.

ARGYLL & ISLES

CULTURE HERITAGE AND ARTS ASSEMBLY, ARGYLL AND ISLES (CHARTS.)

Seeks Trustees

Closing Date: 5pm, June, 7th, 2019

The Culture, Heritage and Arts Assembly, Argyll and Isles (CHARTS), is seeking new Trustees. Local and national interest is invited.

Recently established as a membership led Scottish Charitable Incorporated Organisation (SCIO), CHARTS is designed to support, connect, grow and profile, cultural and creative industries in Argyll and Isles. Borne from a two-year Place Partnership investment, supported by Argyll and Bute Council, LEADER and Creative Scotland, the charity is now responsible to provide sector support. This aims to help build cultural and socio-economic opportunities by addressing individual practitioner and organisational need. The Place Partnership ends in September, 2019, and this presents an exciting and important new phase for the sector.

The board is now keen during transition phase, to engage a wider range of expertise to impact the creative and economic future of Argyll and Isles. Trustees, informed by membership, will form productive partnerships at local, national and international level.

CHARTS especially welcomes interest within the following experience range:

Culture/ Heritage/ Arts/ Leadership
Place-making
International Engagement
Youth Engagement
Evaluation
Fundraising and Sponsorship
Finance
Marketing / Social Media
Equality and Diversity
Human Resources
Public Relations

If you are passionate about cultural development, heritage and/or the arts, with organisational development skills, CHARTS would be delighted to hear from you.

For further details and information about how to register your interest, please contact Kathleen O'Neill at kathleen@chartsargyllandisles.org

Charity: SCO 49113