Re: Good Dog Trainer

Agree with Megan. Ted's entire team is great. They are invested in solving the unique problems that owners have with their various dogs. If your dog earns a graduation diploma from Ted Terroux, that means something. Those dogs have to work for and earn that diploma. He doesn't just give them away because you showed up. Although they do have training supplies that they sell if you need them, they don't try to make a big profit off of them. I showed up to class with a Martingale collar that was too large for my dog, and they told me so. They wanted him with a collar that fit properly to aid in the training. They had some on hand that they fitted him for, and it cost me less than I would've paid for one at Petco or Petsmart. I have nothing but good things to say about their training center. My only wish was that it was closer to the Ranch. Oh, and if your dog doesn't graduate during his/her final exam, you are welcome back to attend classes to refine your skills free of charge. Also, once you have been through his training program, Ted welcomes phone calls and emails from his students regarding special problems they may be having with their pets. He is willing to help solve any new problems you might have free of charge as well.

We took our pup (yellow lab) to Ted Terroux and LOVED our experience with their team, training, and environment. Highly recommend them to anyone for any range of training needs. We tried another service first, A Wagging Success w/ Vickie... it was a very disappointing and discouraging experience for us and our pup. She was more concerned with her brand and upselling than the needs of the dogs in the class (we decided not to return after the 2nd class and she does not offer refunds) - definitely sticking with Ted and his team. Worth the trip from HR (they are located in Lakewood). Good luck!

I noticed neighbors getting new puppies and or adopted dogs. I have been taking my dogs to Ted's for 20 years! He has puppy classes, as well as basic training and AKC good citizen classes. If you have a specific behavior problem he will see your dog privately. I highly recommend his school! He uses only gentle approaches and gets wonderful results. Not only does your dog learn to be a well mannered pet but owners learn so much on how to be a great pet owner!

I really enjoyed Ted Terroux Canine College in Lakewood. They have different options depending on what best suits you and your dog. The training doesn't rely on treats or harsh training methods, but on developing a respectful relationship between you and your dog. You can also go back for refresher classes at any time after graduation.
