WATCH THEM SOAR! - PRE-3 CLASSROOM PROJECT

Oh, the places they'll go! The sky is the limit for these young children and their ambition is fierce. This whimsical work of art is a demonstration of the endless possibilities and represents their individual "stamp" and colorful personalities. Local artist Heidi B. graciously commissioned the piece and the children used their tiny fingers to create each of the vibrant balloons. About the Artist Heidi B. moved to Seattle in 1992 and is known for her minimalist approach to the use of color and renders a clean and striking form of art that attracts a wide palette of collectors. Music and movies have been her source of inspiration. She was commissioned by music legend Eddie Vedder of Pearl Jam for their 2006 World Tour, has art featured in a variety of venues throughout Seattle, appears in the movie, "Half Nelson," with Ryan Gosling and her Animal Fiction characters are a highlight of the Bumbershoot Music Festival.

3

THEY STOLE OUR HEARTS! - PRE-4 CLASS PROJECT

FUND-A- FUTURE

This year's "Fund-A-Future" supports two important school programs: the International Baccalaureate and STEAM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Art and Mathematics). Over the next five years, 740,000 job openings will be available in the Washington State - 33 percent of them STEM specific jobs. We need resources to enhance our STEAM programs. The I.B Program began to be implemented this year with great results, but requires additional funding to be fully executed. Both these programs will significantly help Saint Luke School fulfill its Mission: "With Catholic Values and Tradition, Educate the Whole Child to Lead as Jesus Leads." THANK YOU for bidding high and bidding often to support our St. Luke Students for the next 60 years!

35

PERFECT POP OF WHIMSY - SIXTH GRADE ART PROJECT

Add the perfect pop of whimsy to your garden with the sixth grade class stepping stones! Each stone is handcrafted by a group of diligent tweens who cooperated to create the designs you see before you today. From the snowy mountain top of Rainier to the raindrops pelting the oft-seen umbrellas, our students captured this year's theme, "Let the water renew us", while being inclusive of how the water affects and renews us here in the Pacific Northwest. Your garden is crying out for these stones to become a eye-catching conversation piece, as you redesign, replant, and renew for the coming spring season!

36

CHARMING GARDEN STEPPING STONES - SIXTH GRADE ART PROJECT

No garden is complete without this matched set of stepping stones! Each stone was hand-crafted by the sixth grade team, and is designed to bring this year's theme, "let the water renew us" to your outdoor space. The calming blues and soothing greens of these stones will add a charming tranquility to your garden, and the unique designs will bring a touch of quaint fun anywhere they are installed.

42

IMPRINTS - EIGHTH GRADE CLASS PROJECT

As our 8th graders prepare for their High School journey, it provides us that moment to stop and reflect on not only how St. Luke has imprinted on them, but how they are leaving their imprint on St. Luke's. This beautiful photo printed on metal is a representation of many things. The photo has been created by "selfie's" taken by each of the students then local photographer and parent Jeff Dils combined the photos into one large art piece that has many meanings and representations. First think of our school's theme this year "Let the water renew us", in the image it is the water that we see the student's reflections, we can also see the "ripples" in the water representing the "ripple" that each of these students has made at St. Luke's and finally you can easily see on the river rocks the attributes that are the IB and we can testify that each one of the young men and women of our 8th grade embody these: Knowledgeable, Communicator, Reflective, Thinker, Inquirer, Principled, Open-minded, Balanced, Risk-Taker, Caring.
