Number is the most profound archetype accessible to consciousness, the archetype closest to source. These primordial patterns address personal issues and worldly affairs alike, holding together physical, mental, emotional and spiritual aspects as one complex system not to be divided. Number reveals how life works!

This lecture/workshop outlines the first four of the ten most fundamental archetypal patterns and principles that order life. Through lecture, meditation, gentle movement and group discussion, you will begin to recognize these archetypal patterns and learn to apply their principles to inner process, outer relationship, the workplace, and the social institutions that govern our lives. Number exists beyond the level of differing ideologies, cultures, genders and viewpoints. An archetypal understanding of Number reveals the life principles that enable harmonious interworking of unity and individuality.

*Living without insight into the hidden laws of nature

"Laura is a truly gifted teacher. She weaves a rich tapestry of ideas and images together in her talks, and is equally comfortable improvising based on the questions students bring. Her depth of knowledge ...infused me with new ideas that I continue to turn around in my head and feel in my body. I have tasted only the tiniest sip of the nourishing bone broth for the soul that Laura has to offer. I look forward to continuing to learn more." -Kathryn M
