

DR. BILL ELLIS

INT. DR. BLAKE'S OFFICE - DAY

Dr. Bill Ellis and Karen are deep in conversation.

DR. BILL ELLIS

Sorry to disappoint you, but I'd be happy to tell you the real story.

(pause)

Back in the late 1820's, a man named Joseph Swift built an estate..

Karen quickly interrupts Dr. Ellis.

KAREN

I'm sorry to interrupt you but did you say Joseph Swift?

DR. BILL ELLIS

Yes, yes I did. Joseph Swift built an estate that he named Swifts Mansion. Now this mansion was nothing to sneeze at. It was the most elaborate of its kind.

The mansion received a lot of attention from locals, who soon
referred to his estate as Swifts Hollow, which later, the whole town
would be renamed Swifts Hollow.
Unfortunately two of the Swift's children died on the estate.
