Budgeting—Nuts and Bolts

We simply cannot expect to reach our financial goals if we don't know exactly where we are starting from.

This monthly drop-in workshop focuses on helping you start tracking your income and expenses in a way that makes sense for artists and creative professionals who don't always earn and spend the same way each month. You will learn how to stop guessing and really get specific about the ways in which money moves in and out of your life.

The workshop is free, confidential and open to all professionals in performing arts and entertainment.

Please RSVP to medoga@actorsfund.org if interested in attending this workshop.
