

Performance at St Hugh's College Oxford – 6 April 2019

Reviews

1.

Absolutely excellent. Funny yet immensely moving, and I loved the way all aspects of the war were brought in - poetry, sounds, music. I also very much liked joining in the singing. Two tiny comments:

- (a) a bit of a sag towards the end of the first half. Perhaps edit the correspondence a little?
- (b) Some of the extra scenes seemed a bit random - friends in pub, queue for food.

Very enjoyable and moving production and nice to be name checked in the play. (I am sure Bill Cawley would not mind if we mentioned his name. He was instrumental in getting the venue for our premiere in Leek and he also facilitated our schools performance in one of the senior schools in Leek. So we paid him the compliment of name checking him! Edwin Hassall refers to a school teacher "Mr Cawley" who was always bringing him up on his punctuation! Thank you Mr Cawley!)

3.

It held my interest throughout because you introduced so much variety (even with only three actors). Really good use of songs and poetry as well. Well done!

4.

Very moving presentation
Excellent singing voices of the actors
Good pace
Very interesting original material
