SPECIAL MESSAGE

THE NEW MADRID EARTHQUAKE THAT WILL DIVIDE THE UNITED STATES IN HALF

Once upon a time, North America almost divided along a very deep subsurface rift. Today, that rift system and the faults associated with it are known as the New Madrid fault zone. This fault zone is six times larger than the San Andreas fault zone in California and it covers portions of Illinois, Indiana, Missouri, Arkansas, Kentucky, Tennessee and Mississippi. Back in 1811 and 1812, four of the largest earthquakes in U.S. history struck that area of the country. The movement of the ground was so powerful that it changed the course of the Mississippi River and it rang church bells in Boston, Massachusetts.

So could such an earthquake (or worse) strike today? Well, last year the U.S. Geological Survey released a report that warned that the New Madrid fault zone has the "potential for larger and more powerful quakes than previously thought", and the USGS also admits that the number of significant earthquakes in the middle part of the country has more than quintupled in recent years. We also know that the U.S. government and large corporations are so concerned about the potential for a major New Madrid earthquake that they have held major exercises that simulate one.

Scientists tell us that it is just a matter of time until another Superguake hits the region, and personally I am one of the millions of Americans that believe that we will eventually see a New Madrid earthquake that will divide the United States in half.

Is Middle America Due For a Huge Earthquake? In the early 19th century, a series of massive quakes rocked Missouri. Some experts predict that the state could be in for another round of violent shaking, while others warn that a big quake could strike elsewhere in the center of the continent.

Today America is divided; the spiritual battle for our beloved nation must be won – once again. Join fellow intercrossers in "America's Heartland" - Branson/Springfield, Missouri – to intercede for God's mercy over our beloved nation and to "redeem the land" from the shedding of blood during the American Civil War at Wilson's Creek National Battlefield. Learn why Missouri made a difference in America's destiny during the Civil War and that today it is a target of evil that needs to be reversed for the sake of the entire nation.

In fellowship with other intercrossers, participate in Christian activism and prayer; learn history & how it's repeating itself today in this hour; enjoy the beauty of the Ozarks and all Branson has to offer in Christian and patriotic entertainment; view a reenactment of the first major Civil War battle fought west of the Mississippi River on August 10, 1861; intercede for America's salvation on the very grounds of Wilson's Creek National Battlefield; network & other believers and ministries; and, most importantly, worship our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ with fellow believers from across America! You will be blessed and be a blessing to our beloved nation!
