

Why are we here today? To protect our kids!

We believe in science, and we trust the hundreds of independent, peer-reviewed scientific studies that demonstrate that RF microwave radiation can cause biological harm, even at levels below FCC guidelines.

The deployment of hundreds of thousands of “small cell” microwave wireless antennas in close proximity to homes and apartments in our neighborhoods will result in the involuntary exposure of millions of Americans - including our children - with absolutely no guarantee of safety.

So we’re calling on the wireless companies - AT&T, Verizon, Sprint and T-Mobile to voluntarily stop the deployment of their 5G-enabled small cell antennas in our neighborhoods until independent experts can prove the technology is safe.

It’s a reasonable ask. We have a responsibility to our kids.

That’s why we’re here today. Please join us!
