

LITTLE EXPLORERS PETTING ZOO

Policies on Less-than-Favorable Weather

What do we do for very rainy or very hot days?

Here at Little Explorers, we will try to accommodate for most any weather! We attend parties year-round and have helped make many events wonderful and memorable, despite most upsets with rain or heat. We will do our best to work around the extreme weathers of your party to keep it comfortable for our animals and your guests.

RAIN: Little Explorers Petting Zoo will not cancel our visit due to rain without first seeking an alternative set-up plan prior to your event. Little Explorers will provide one 10' by 10' foot pop-up tent to shelter our petting zoo and guests from weather. This generally works well in light/on-and-off rain. Setting up under a covered area or in a garage is always best, and is at the duty of the customer to ensure we have an area set aside in case of heavy rain.

If a covered area cannot be agreed upon, and the natural ground is too wet/soggy for the petting zoo to set up on, the petting zoo will be moved to a hard surface with the pop-up tent, and the $25 hay bedding fee will be applied. If winds exceed 20 MPH, our pop-up tents cannot withstand this and will pose themselves as a safety hazard. If a safe, covered area cannot be provided, and the client requests that the animal visit be cut short due to wind/rain, the full amount is still due.

EXTREME TEMPERATURES: Extreme temperatures can be dangerous for animals. Little Explorers will try to accommodate as is determined still comfortable and safe for the animals. We will provide an EZ-up, misters and a 50 foot hose to ensure temperatures remain cool within the petting zoo pen. We will strongly request an area with shade as well.

Animal visits may be cut short or cancelled altogether for the animals' well being if outside temperatures exceed 95 degrees, or fall below 50 degrees.

If the customer is willing, we will accommodate rescheduling for another date within the same calendar year.

*Please note, all of our packages are subject to additional fees that may include travel, setup or insurance requests. Contact us for a full quote for our zoo visit!
