

News, Views & Entertainment

Alcam Writing & Admin LLC
 • Writing and Editing services
 • Design, Layout
 • Newsletters, Pamphlets,
 • Public Relations, Digital Content, SEO
 Patricia Villers, Ralph Villers
 Call: 475-228-1221, 203-751-6484
 Web: thevalley-voicect.net/alcam
 E-mail: Alcamwriting@yahoo.com
 P.O. Box 85 * Derby CT 06418

More of the Best of the Valley

October 2, 2018

Ansonia Harvest Festival features fun, creates memories

By Patricia Villers

Photos by: Stephanie Musleh, City of Ansonia, Irene Krom-Kirby, Patricia Villers, Allegra Villers

Pumpkins, a pie-eating contest, pony rides, a petting zoo, mums, and more highlighted Saturday's Ansonia Harvest Festival.

The Cultural Commission hosted the event along Main Street and the weather couldn't have been better as thousands took in the sights and sounds of the 29th annual fest.

Mayor David S. Cassetti got into the spirit and donned a festive suit featuring bright orange pumpkins.

Road Ready Used Cars sponsored the event.

Cassetti and some scarecrow friends rode on a vintage pickup provided by Road Ready to greet fairgoers and start the day.

More than 100 vendors selling a variety of food, artwork, crafts, jewelry, and more lined both sides of the street.

Magicians Pete and Chris performed in front of City Hall, and magician Chris Lengyel walked along the street to entertain. Horse-drawn wagon rides and bounce houses added to the fun.

Music was provided throughout the day by the Southern Voice Band, Survivors Swing Band, The Classics, and Bantam Band. DJ extraordinaire Phyllis Kaplan once again kept the festivities moving along.

The Valley Shakespeare Festival and students from the Mulkerin School of Irish Dance performed to the delight of the crowd.

New this year were an apple and pumpkin pie baking contest and a blueberry pie eating contest, coordinated by Cultural Commission member Renee Simpson.

Ansonia Events Coordinator Rich DiCarlo said, "We were given a challenge to fill a quarter mile of Main Street with vendors and activities.

"Looks like we did it and everybody had fun and that's what it's all about!"

See more photos on P.2
See event slideshow HERE

Ansonia Harvest Festival features fun, creates memories

Acknowledgements for a fabulous Harvest Festival 2018

An event like the Harvest Festival doesn't just happen - it takes the efforts by many to make this day as great as it was.

As Cultural Commission chairman, I acknowledge:

Cultural Commission Members:

- Adrienne Duhancik
- George Pudimat
- Crystal White
- Stephanie Musleh
- Rich DiCarlo
- Renee Simpson

Ansonia Public Works
Ansonia Police Department
City of Ansonia

- Mayor David S. Cassetti
- Dave Connelly

The amazing vendors!

Harvey!

Road Ready Used Cars

And the thousands of visitors who enjoyed a beautiful day!

