

Conductr

The Ableton iPad app has been out for a while, but Conductr is now available in a 'freemium' version which will allow you to control four tracks and 11 scenes on any Ableton Live set and create two user modules, with more available as in-app purchases. <http://bit.ly/1unzrFH>

Steinberg Groove Agent 4

Steinberg have upgraded their Groove Agent 'auto-drummer' plug-in to version 4 and it looks to be the best yet with a completely redesigned interface and feature set that's in the same ballpark as XLN Audio Addictive Drums 2 and Toontrack EZdrummer 2. You can download the upgrade from Groove Agent 3 to 4 right now in the Steinberg Shop for £82. The full, boxed version should be in the shops imminently, priced £142. <http://bit.ly/Vilt8F>

iZotope RX4

When it comes to audio repair and enhancement, iZotope's RX software is about as good as it gets, helping musicians, engineers and post production peeps to clean up flawed files and make them usable. Now RX 4 is on the horizon – it'll be released in September and boasts a raft of new features, including the Dialogue Denoiser. <http://bit.ly/1kZylaM>
