Where Do the Candidates Stand on Abortion?

Henry McMaster

James Smith

Government Funding of Abortion

The 1973 Roe v. Wade and Doe v. Bolton Supreme Court decisions legalized abortion on demand throughout the United States. There have been more than 60 million abortions since then.

Gov. Henry McMaster always has been pro-life. He opposes the use of government funds for abortion, and he opposes giving hundreds of millions of dollars of government funds to abortion providers such as Planned Parenthood.

Rep. James Smith is "a supporter of Planned Parenthood" (Post & Courier, April 18, 2018) which receives $300 million in government funds annually. Planned Parenthood is the nation's largest abortion business.

Late Abortion

A professional poll by The Polling Company found that 63% of registered voters in South Carolina support a law that would prohibit abortion after 20 weeks when there is overwhelming scientific evidence that the unborn child is capable of feeling pain.

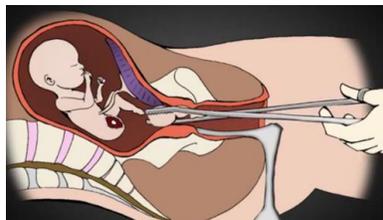

Gov. McMaster supports the South Carolina law passed in 2016 that bans most abortions at 20 weeks after fertilization when an unborn child is scientifically known to feel excruciating pain.

Rep. Smith sided with abortion extremists and opposed the Pain-Capable Unborn Child Protection Act of 2016 by casting 50 votes against passage of this pro-life law that protects unborn children from late abortion.

Dismemberment Abortion

In 2017, the South Carolina House passed the Unborn Child Protection from Dismemberment Abortion Act by an overwhelming bi-partisan vote of 89-17. The law would have banned the savage practice of dismembering living unborn babies by the abortionist who tears off the babies' arms and legs and rips their bodies piece by piece from the womb.

Gov. McMaster believes in protecting living unborn children from the savage practice of dismemberment. He will sign legislation to ban this horrific treatment of the unborn members of our human family.

Rep. Smith voted with abortion extremists to keep the savage practice of dismembering living unborn children legal in South Carolina.
