Law Day Celebration

South County Branch Law Library

Celebrate National Library Week with Rupert J. Smith Law Library

Law Libraries celebrate National Library week from April 8 through April 14. For the last sixty years, the American Library Association has brought attention to all libraries—public and private, specialized and general, large and small through National Library Week. It is a reminder of how important libraries are to all of us. The theme this year is Libraries Transform 2018.

CLE Programs: Live and Recorded

The Rupert J. Smith Law Library welcomes Steve Hoskins back to the lunch and learn series. He is presenting “PI Basic Training” on Friday, April 27 at noon. Steve’s seminar is good for two hours of CLE credits and will be held at the law library’s main facility at 221 South Indian River Drive, Ft. Pierce. Steve is graciously sponsoring the lunch too. Please call the law library at 772-462-2370 to reserve your spot.

Come Visit our New South County Branch in Port St. Lucie

On November 1, the RJS Law Library opened a new branch within the Paula Lewis Branch of the public library at 2950 SW Rosser Blvd. We have a small Florida print collection and the same electronic access we have at the main branch in Fort Pierce. We are open about 20 hours per week. Our hours differ everyday to blend with the public library. Please see our website: <http://www.rjsslawlibrary.org> for details. Attorneys can still have 24/7 access with a backdoor keycard. If you already have keycard access to the Ft. Pierce law library, you will need an additional card. Just let the library know you would like one and we will request it. 772-462-2370 or lucielaw@bellsouth.net.
