Under the Sea	Jungle
 A black and white line drawing of an underwater scene. In the foreground, there are silhouettes of various sea anemones and coral. A single fish is swimming in the middle ground. The background shows a dark, rocky seabed.	 A black and white line drawing of a jungle landscape. A large, leafy tree with hanging vines is the central focus. To the right, there is a river or stream with a palm tree on the opposite bank. In the foreground, there are various plants, including what looks like a banana plant and some smaller shrubs.
