The Jersey Roadrunners to Change Name & Become Legends Baseball™

SEWELL, N.J. — It is with great anticipation that Legends Ballpark™ announces the name change of the Jersey Roadrunners to Legends Baseball™. This change will take effect after the fall baseball season ends on Nov. 18, 2017.

Over the past 18 months the Jersey Roadrunners have gone through a massive transformation growing in scale and finding a new home to play ball. The team started as just one with 12 players of mixed ages as we left a recreational setting with uncertainty about our future, according to Causerano.

“By the winter of 2016 we had no home for our boys and we were begging to use other towns multi-purpose fields, where many other teams practice and play games,” he said. “Our future was uncertain, and a massive search began to find a new home.”

Causerano recounts that in the spring of 2016 the team was able to use a field on Sewell Road (now Legends Ballpark™), and many of the original Jersey Roadrunner’s families spent hours to make the field a home. In July of 2016, the Yates family bought the property at 120 Sewell Rd and Legends Ballpark™ was established. This name change further legitimizes the union of the team and ballpark as a final step in establishing a home field at Legends Ballpark™.

“Legends Baseball™ was once our dream and it has now become a reality. We provide our children a safe place to play sports in a complex that includes an indoor facility where we have an opportunity to develop year-round,” said Yates, owner of Legends Ballpark™. “We aspire to use baseball as a catalyst, giving our players a strong foundation and teaching them core values to help them succeed in baseball and in life.”

Legends Ballpark™ offers eight indoor batting cages and two multiple purpose indoor turf fields for year-round training. Since the opening of Legends Ballpark™, the Jersey Roadrunners team of one has grown to eight Legends Baseball™ teams with more than 100+ players ranging from 7u to 12u years of age. For all Roadrunner players, families and friends – welcome to Legends Baseball™!
