

The Dragon Who Came to Breakfast

When Ben went down for his breakfast he could hear a funny noise in the kitchen. When he opened the door... there was a DRAGON!

"Hello!" the dragon said.

"Would you like some eggs?" Ben asked.

"Yes, please!" said the dragon, and ate the lot - shells and all.

"Would you like some beans?" Ben asked.

"Yes, please!" said the dragon, and swallowed the tin in one go.

"Would you like some orange juice?" Ben asked.

"Yes, please!" said the dragon. There was a loud hiss as he swallowed.

By now the dragon was full.

"Well, I must be off. Thanks for breakfast!" said the dragon.

He got up, flapped his wings and flew off with a puff of smoke.

Ben wondered where the dragon was going for lunch.

SENTENCE

Put these sentences in the correct order to tell the story.

- ◆ The dragon drank some orange juice.
- ◆ The dragon ate some eggs.
- ◆ Ben found a dragon in the kitchen.
- ◆ The dragon ate a tin of beans.
- ◆ The dragon flew off.

Rewrite these sentences so they make sense.

- 1 When Ben opened the dragon he saw a door.
- 2 The dragon drank some beans.
- 3 The dragon ate some orange juice.
- 4 The dragon flapped his feet and flew off.

1 Choose the correct word for each picture.

a) mad made

b)
can cane

c) cap cape

d)
tap tape

e)
hat hate

f)
mat mate

2 Match up the pairs of rhyming words.

cake sale late gave came

date save game pale shake