MCW PRO WRESTLING - SUNDAY, DECEMBER 4, 2016

Joppa, MD - On Saturday, December 3, MCW Pro Wrestling returned to Joppa, MD for "Seasons Beatings".

In our social media exclusive matches:

Nick Comoroto and Cody Vance defeated the debut of Maxwell Jacob Feinstein and his bodyguard, Malcolm Moses, as a new tag team, along with Feinstein's lady Maria Manic.

Brittany Blake pinned Tess Valentine.

Leon St. Giovanni and Shaheem Ali beat The Punk Rock All Stars, Drake Carter and Shaun Cannon as Giovanni and Ali hit a Stroke/Flatliner combo.

Our live event started with a four-way scramble to name a #1 contender to the MCW Rage TV Title between Rayo, Jeremiah, Brandon Scott, and Greg Excellent! During the match, Sean Studd entered the ring and choke slammed Greg Excellent, then Rayo. Bruiser ran to the ring, with Studd escaping to the back. However, Bruiser, to get some revenge on The Winner's Circle, T-Boned Jeremiah. That left Brandon Scott to come off the top for a blockbuster to get a pin on Jeremiah.

"Punishment" Damien Martinez pinned Black Wall Street's Chuck Lennox.

In a hard-fought contest, Dante Caballero pinned Lio Rush after Dante spat his drink in Rush's eyes, then connected with The Line of Paradise to give him a pin fall victory.

Though Andy Vineberg was a special guest referee, Bruiser was dominant most of his match against Sean Studd. However, Vineberg declared Bruiser's Bruisemission an illegal choke hold as Studd was tapping out. As Bruiser challenged Vineberg to his "ruling", Studd hit a low blow, choke slammed Bruiser, and locked him in the Bruisemission himself. Bruiser did not tap, but Vineberg called for the bell, giving Studd the win!

The Wolves, Davey Richards and Impact Wrestling champion Eddie Edwards defeated The Appalachian Outlaws, Bo Nekoda and Cousin Clay, with JP Callahan in a match that showcased the power of The Outlaws and how they could hold their own against two of the best in the world.

Being welcomed to the ring by two U.S. Marines who are a part of Toys For Tots, "Hacksaw" Jim Duggan, Johnny Crabcakes, and Lance Anoa'i defeated The Rock N' Bowl Express, Stroker Lane, Biggie Vargas, and "Mr. 300" Nick Jeremy.

General Manager Phil Stamper explained Kevin Eck threatened legal action if Guns 4 Hire were allowed to compete against The Ecktourage for the MCW Tag Titles, as it was Paul Jordane alone who earned the opportunity by cashing in his Bunkhouse Stampede Golden Boot. Therefore, Bill Collier was not allowed to compete. However, Jordane still wanted to compete one-against-two!

When it seemed Jordane might beat The Ecktourage when Chapel was eliminated due to injury and he had the advantage over Dirty Money, Nick Comoroto and Cody Vance entered the ring and beat down Jordane. As the match was declared a no contest, Kevin Eck introduced Comoroto and Vance as the "New Guns"!

Thanksgiving weekend, Drolix beat Ken Dixon to win both the MCW Pro Wrestling and MCW Rage TV Titles. Dixon demanded a match and Drolix accepted, but asked GM Stamper to make it a tables match!

During the tables match, both men fought on the ring apron, Drolix with brass knuckles and Dixon with a roll of quarters, sending both men through a table on the floor. GM Stamper came to the ring and declared there must be a winner and restarted the match!

MCW Pro Wrestling and Rage TV champion Drolix retained. But as Drolix celebrated with Black Wall Street members Lennox and Napalm Bomb, Bomb picked up the MCW Title Belt and smashed it across the back of Drolix's head and beat down Lennox!

Then, after almost a year of sneak attacks and mind games, The Hell Cats, Sexy Steve and Jimmy Starz, and F.U., George Jenkins and Chris Swann went to settle their mutual disgust inside a steel cage. As they battled, and even after Starz was handcuffed to the cage at one point, it was The Hell Cats with their hands raised at the end of the night, putting an end to an historic rivalry between these two teams.
