
Eco Oikos Guest Blog

Terms and Conditions for Guest Writers and Bloggers

1. The guest writer/blogger fully understands that the article submitted by him/her to be published on this website will not be compensated for, monetarily, now or ever in the future. Only, due credit (his/her byline) will be given.
2. The website management will not re-sell articles written by Guest Writers/Bloggers.
3. The author is free to publish the same article any place else after it is first published on this website but after a waiting period of 48 hours from the time of publication on this website. It must be expressly mentioned in all subsequent publications of the same article/blog posts on other websites/blogs that the article/post had first appeared on www.ecooikos.com.
4. The ultimate/sole liability arising out of plagiarism, even for parts of the submitted article/blogpost, rests only and only on the concerned writer. He/she shall bear singular responsibility in case of any legal proceedings in this matter.
5. If at any point in time, the website management receives a complaint of plagiarism, and if it is ultimately convinced that it is indeed so, the said article shall be promptly removed from the website.
6. The website management retains the right to publish/run the article/blogpost for as long as it deems fit. There is no guaranteed lock-in period or minimum/maximum period of it being online.
7. The website management also retains the right to remove an article without giving any explanation to the writer/author.
8. All views/opinions expressed in such guest articles will be solely those of the author/writer and NOT of this website. The website management have the right to turn down articles that are not in line with the values and Kaupapa of Eco Oikos or do not align with the brand. The writer/author shall alone be responsible for any factual errors in his/her article. If such an error is established and proved beyond doubt, the writer will be given the opportunity to immediately rectify it. If he/she does not do so, the website management retains the right to then delete the article.
9. The website may or may not maintain an archive or Articles/blogposts bank of such guest articles.
10. For purposes of identification to the online & offline community, a guest writer/author/blogger may announce that he is a guest writer/freelancer for this website. But he/she is not permitted to state that he/she is on the permanent staff of this website or convey, or do anything that conveys that impression. If done, this website shall not have any legal responsibility.
11. The guest author/writer may use the name of this website and the home page URL only, for personal promotional purposes, i.e. to identify him/her as a guest writer for this website, and nothing beyond that.
12. He/she can link from any of his/her own articles from this website to any of his/her articles on other websites/blogs.
13. The website Editors may link to other reports from the submitted article/blogpost if need be.

14. The website management retains all right to promote the guest article or the guest author in any way it deems fit including announcing them on social networking sites or in any other form of advertisement or from any marketing platform.
15. Because of its very nature the guest writer/blogger indemnifies the website from any potential legal liability/damage that may arise from his/her article/blogpost.
16. The author will ensure that he has complied with all copyright issues pertaining to his article, for text, photographs, graphics and any other, before submitting it to this website.
17. If the website feels that there could be a possible copyright violation, it will remove the article from the site. The ultimate responsibility in copyright violations shall lie only and only with the writer and not on this website.
18. The Guest Writer/Blogger shall give due credit in his article/post for any material or photo or graphic used where such is expressly required by the original copyright holders. He/she are also obliged to mention/attribute the sources of information or give backlinks in their articles, if not original.
19. In the interest of style, design and so on, the guest article may be styled in a particular manner, the writer should have no objection to it.
20. The headline/slugs/photo captions will be given by the guest writers/bloggers and will not be changed except in cases of grammatical errors.
