

How does Santa find his way back to the North Pole?

(Hint: Santa's Favorite Stars!)

All through the night the stars appear to move slowly around the North Star. It is also called Polaris ("pole star") because it is above earth's north pole. The North Star is steady while the others move. For Santa, going back home is easy—just head toward Polaris, the North Star!