

TINSLEY TIME AND TRAVEL

People have travelled to Tinsley for over a thousand years: from NEOLITHIC SETTLERS and ROMAN LEGIONS, to Medieval farmers and Georgian Highway men, to VICTORIAN TRADESMEN and 20TH CENTURY STEEL WORKERS.

Join us for this two year community heritage project in Tinsley to help us discover why.

Gaining and losing: The coming of the M1

The motorway arrived in the 1960s. What changed in Tinsley?

Tinsley has a fascinating history, just waiting to be discovered. It's also home to many important but underappreciated archaeological discoveries like a Bronze Age canoe, and a 12th century Medieval manor house.

Over the next two years, people will be invited to uncover and celebrate Tinsley's unique history through lots of events and activities, including:

- Family art workshops
- Local history talks
- Archaeological field recordings and surveys
- Local history courses for adult learners
- Heritage arts walks
- Visits to other historic sites in South Yorkshire
- Sharing their memories and photos of Tinsley
- Expert led skills sessions

If you have any memories, histories or artefacts to contribute, please get in touch at any time!

If you're interested in volunteering, or are part of a group that are interested in Tinsley history, we'd love to hear from you!
