W.A.P. S. Week 3 q2

Tuesday 11-17-20

Unit Line

Project: Cross Contour

Essential Question: (EQ)

How can you shade with pen?

What will I learn today:

How to use the element of art, line, to establish an interpretive and technical art piece.

(VA.912.O.1.1)

How I will learn it? (Agenda)

-Discuss 2 different techniques

-Complete Exercise

Vocabulary:

- Line - In terms of art, line is a moving dot.
- Contour lines - (outlines) Lines that communicate the boundaries of an object or parts of an object.
- Line quality - The thickness or thinness of a line. Line quality can be used to create the illusion of form.
- Cross contour lines - Lines that follow the contours or form of the object. These lines can be vertical, horizontal, or both.

Shading with Line

What are we covering today?

Yesterday, we learned that there are more lines besides contour lines that an artist should be aware of. These theoretical lines flow over the form of an object and are referred to as cross contour lines.

Today, we'll learn that these lines do more than help us to understand the form of the objects that we draw. We'll see how cross contour lines also help us to determine the directional stroking when adding shading to a drawing.

We'll continue working with line and shape as we explore this concept. As we have hinted thus far, form and light are incredibly important in creating a successful drawing.

When working with line exclusively to describe light and form, we use directional stroking with our mark making tool to add shading.

Directional strokes that are used to describe shadow and light can be placed close together or crossed over to create the illusion of darker tones, while allowing space between these marks creates lighter tones.

Hatching

When directional strokes that do not cross over are used to develop shading, it is referred to as hatching (pictured right).

Cross Hatching

When the strokes used to develop shading cross over, it is referred to as cross hatching. (pictured left).
