

All students require University Entrance for admission to the University of Waikato, but some degrees at Waikato have additional entry requirements and/or include first-year papers with specific prerequisites.

This guide indicates which degrees at Waikato have specific requirements or include papers with prerequisites and, therefore, which school subjects are recommended. Students who do not have the required background may be directed to take certain papers in their first year of study. All students are advised to apply for their preferred degree. Student Recruitment Advisers and Faculty/School Academic Advisers will assist students with planning their programme of study.
