

THE COMMONWEALTH, FRANKFORT, KY.

THO. B. STEVENSON, Editor MONDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 1846.

See the advertisement of the Bourbon Agricultural Society. To the Hemp Growers of the United States. They are anxious to promote the widest possible range of competition.

The law of Congress in relation to the supply of the navy with water-rotted hemp of domestic growth, is either defective in its provisions, or its administration.

From the Western (Paris) Citizen. TO THE HEMP GROWERS OF THE UNITED STATES. The Bourbon County Agricultural Society offer a premium of a Silver Mug, worth $30, for the best article of Hemp for Naval purposes.

The Government has advertised for one hundred and fifty tons of water-rotted Hemp, to be delivered at Louisville, by the first day of July next.

I recommend that each parcel of 25 pounds be carefully put up, and covered with tow linen, plainly marked "For Lewis Sanders, United States Hemp Agent for Kentucky, to the care of James Anderson & Co., Louisville, Ky."

Appended are the rules of the Society governing the proceedings. U. S. Hemp Agent for Ky. Hemp Agency for Kentucky, Louisville, Nov. 4, 1845.

GEORGE W. WILLIAMS, Pres. Bo. Co. Ag. Society, Paris, Ky., Nov. 1845. MR. GALLATT'S PROPOSITION.—This venerable statesman in his last letter thus states the proposition which he has endeavored to establish.

It has been attempted in these papers to prove— 1st. That neither of the two powers has an absolute and indisputable right to the whole contested territory; that each may recede from its extreme pretensions without impairing National honor or wounding pride; and that the way is therefore still open for a renewal of negotiations.

2d. That the avowed object of the United States in giving notice of the abrogation of the convention, is the determination to assert and maintain their assumed right of absolute and exclusive sovereignty over the whole territory; that Great Britain is fully committed on that point, and as constantly and explicitly declared that such an attempt would be resisted; and that war is therefore the unavoidable consequence of such a decisive step—a war not only necessarily calamitous and expensive, but in its character aggressive, not justifiable by the magnitude and importance of its object, and of which the chances are uncertain.

perceived how the postponement for the present and for a time can, in any shape or in the slightest degree, injure the United States.

The establishment of a kindred and friendly power on the north-west coast of America, is all that England can expect, all, perhaps, that the United States ought to desire. It seems almost incredible that, whilst that object may be attained by simply not opposing the effect of natural causes, two kindred nations, having such powerful motives to remain at peace, and standing at the head of European and American civilization, should, in this enlightened age, give to the world the scandalous spectacle, perhaps not unwelcome to some of the beholders, of an unnatural and unnecessary war; that they should apply all their faculties and exhaust their resources in inflicting, each on the other, every injury in their power, and for what purpose!

The certain consequence, independent of all the direct calamities and miseries of war, will be a mutual increase of debt and taxation, and the ultimate fate of Oregon will be the same as if the war had not taken place.

AN EXPOSITION. Repeated at a Temperance Meeting by VALENTINE ANTONIO, a Temperance Lecturer.

Ye friends of moderation, who think a reformation of moral renovation, would benefit the nation; Who desire intemperance, with all its dissipation, In every rank and station, the cause of degradation, Of which your observation gives daily demonstration; Who see the ruin, distress and desolation, The open violation of moral obligation, The wretched habitations, without accommodation, Or any regard for common sustenance, Or a scene of deprivation, unequalled in creation, The frequent destruction of Scholastic institutions, The crime and degradation, defying legislation, The awful profanation of common conversation, The mental aberration, and dire intoxication, With every sad and ghastly demonstration; Ye, who with consternation behold this devastation, And utter condemnation on all intemperance, Why sanction its violation, or show disapprobation Of any combination for its extermination? We deem a declaration, that offers no temptation, By any palliation, of this abomination, Injurious to the health of the nation, And under this persuasion, told no communication, With anxious emanation of brewer's fermentation, Of poisonous preparation, or spirit's distillation, Nor any vain illusion, or gratification, To this determination, we call consideration, And without hesitation, invite co-operation, Not doubting but that you will raise your estimation, And by continuation afford your consent; For in participation, with this association, You may by mediation, insure the preservation Of a future generation from all intemperance, And may each indication, of such regeneration, Be theme of exultation, till its final consummation.
