Save a Life. For Free. In Texas.

Why:

To decrease the adverse impact of opioids on Texas residents, with an immediate emphasis on reducing overdose mortality through best practices and providing greater access to opioid overdose reversal medication such as Naloxone/Narcan.

What?

The UT Health San Antonio School of Nursing and TONI are executing training to inform first responders, community organization members and individuals of the basics of overdose education and prevention for communities to better engage with individuals who may be experiencing difficulty with opioids or know someone who is. You will learn to recognize, respond to and evaluate an opioid overdose.

You can also go to www.moreNARCANplease.com to watch videos about using Narcan and to reorder FREE Narcan for you family, community organization or healthcare company.

Why FREE?

The Narcan being supplied to Texas organizations and individuals is provided by a federally funded, state executed grant, coordinated by HHSC and the UT Health School of Nursing. Narcan retails for about $37 per dose, each box has 2 doses.

Outcomes matter?

Yes, many thanks to all the organizations and community members who are being trained and will train others. Please help us... show the results of the work we're doing with Narcan by reporting outcomes here:

<https://www.morenarcanplease.com/surveys> . We anticipate the FREE program growing if we can supply the grant providers with adequate outcomes as folks use the Narcan and prevent overdoses. FREE Narcan is an incredible public service. Please share your stories! They matter!
