Aries Insight announces two new clients

Aries Insight, the technical pensions legislation specialist, has announced Plumbing Pensions and FNZ (UK) Ltd as the latest additions to the Aries Pensions Club.

Ian Neale, Director at Aries, said: “With pensions legislation constantly changing and evolving, it can be an extremely complex area to navigate. But it is crucial that schemes and businesses are familiar with even the smallest of legislative changes, in order to genuinely understand how they could impact the scheme, their members and of course member outcomes. At Aries Insight we help to untangle this web of legislation to ensure our clients can understand the impact of legislative changes and when necessary communicate these changes onward, such as to members. It’s great to be appointed by both trustees, employers and advisers, as it means that we are able to ensure that accurate and up-to-date information is easily accessible across the industry.”

Kate Yates, Chief Executive, Plumbing Pensions (UK) Administration Ltd. said: “Gaining access to the Aries system and its wide range of resources and information is a great step for our scheme. Ensuring up-to-date, precise information is on hand is crucial in order to ensure that our scheme is running as it should, and of course ensuring good outcomes for our members. The legislative changes around pensions can be incredibly complex, so the time this will save our internal team will allow for a real focus on the member and providing the best scheme we can”

FNZ (UK) Ltd has joined the Aries Pensions Club in its capacity as an administrator and platform provider.
