Aries Insight announces Aon has joined the Aries Pensions Club

Aries Insight, the technical pensions legislation specialist, has announced Aon as the latest new member of the Aries Pensions Club.

Ian Neale, Director at Aries Insight, said: "At a time when pensions regulation is constantly shifting, it's unsurprising that many companies are choosing to look at how best to keep clients ahead of the latest legislative changes. We are thrilled to be able to provide up-to-date, precise information to all our clients, now including Aon. The appointment by Aon, a household name with over 50,000 employees, really highlights the strengths of the Aries team. Our constantly-updated system allows us to communicate any legislative changes quickly and efficiently, while our concentrated years of experience and extensive knowledge mean we are also able to analyse this legislation, providing the core information and implications for all our clients. By including this service, clients are better able to spend their time providing strong, polished services with the member as the focus."

Peter Williams, Principal Consultant at Aon, said: "We look forward to working with Aries Insight, to continue to ensure that both our clients and our consultants are kept informed of the latest developments in UK pensions legislation and regulation."
