

Kristen Miner has been a Flint resident for nearly twenty years. She earned a Bachelor of Science in Biology and Secondary Education from Central Michigan University where she focused her courses on environmental science. She then earned a Master of Arts in Secondary Education. She taught biology and science for a number of years to adult students before changing her focus to graphic design. She then taught graphic design for over 20 years. She has always had an interest in the environment and began to look at Historic Preservation as important to both history and the environment. She earned a Graduate Certificate in Historic Preservation from Savannah College of Art and Design during which she did research on several buildings and neighborhoods in Flint including the College Cultural Neighborhood. Kristen sees the Conservation District board as a way to make an actual impact on the environmental quality of Genesee County.
