

PROFILE

Co-founded Grayscale architecture + design in 2010, an award winning practice, who are committed to creating high quality modern buildings that respond sensitively to their environment but remain unquestionably of their time. Working across the leisure, retail, residential and commercial sectors they look to work with clients of shared values to realise creative, commercially aware and intelligent design.

Director of Gray + Gray architects leading a team specialising in the design of one-off contemporary homes. Their vision is to create contextual yet modern homes that express and articulate the aspirations of the people who live in them

Paul is passionate about architecture and design, teaching at the University of Nottingham as a part time studio design tutor since 2008. He is a RIBA Judge, Civic Awards Assessor and has been trained as a RIBA Design Panel Member.
