

Cuba: Past & Present

Travel with the Florida Trust for Historic Preservation
September 30 to October 7, 2017

GAIN A FRESH PERSPECTIVE OF THE PEOPLE AND CULTURE OF CUBA. . .

Havana, in its faded glamour, was once known as the “Paris of the Caribbean”, is now a shadow of its former prestige. A world where time is held captive – poised between the past and the future in a place where anything is possible.

Our program allows access to the preservation efforts to preserve some of Cuba’s finest architectural heritage in Havana and Trinidad de Cuba. Meeting and interacting with professionals involved with restoration and urban planning will give you unusual access to the goals and politics involved in preserving Cuba’s heritage in Havana and Trinidad de Cuba.

The Cuban people are proud of their intertwined European and Afro-Cuban cultures exhibited in food, music and religion; all meld into an infectious blend, as the Cuban’s say, a “ajiaco”; the traditional stew where everyone contributes and it is always being reinvented. We have operated exchange groups in Cuba for 20 years and we are pleased to offer this program to the Florida Trust.

A RECOMMENDATION

The Georgia Trust for Historic Preservation traveled to Havana with Tony Ransola and we were absolutely delighted with the experience. The itinerary was custom designed for our group and we had several highly informative lecturers speak to us to bring key insight and expand our appreciation of Cuban art and architecture.

The travel details were handled very well and I would highly recommend this tour organizer to my colleagues.
