Hill- Physick 1786

Historic Waynesborough 1724

Philadelphia Society for the Preservation of Landmarks

Our Mission:

For 88 years, the Philadelphia Society for the Preservation of Landmarks (PhilaLandmarks) has played a significant role in both the historic preservation movement and heritage tourism in Philadelphia by restoring, furnishing, and presenting to the public its distinguished house museums – Powel House, Grumblethorpe, Hill-Physick House, and Historic Waynesborough. The mission of PhilaLandmarks is to inspire people to engage with history by preserving these four unique sites and by providing related historical, educational, and cultural programming. Each property presents a distinctive perspective and plays a significant role in their respective communities.

PhilaLandmarks believes that it is only through understanding and engaging in our histories (architectural, social, political, etc.) that we can make decisions about what is important to us today and what we choose to support in the future. While we enjoy providing quality house tours, we will also continue to discover new audiences and innovative ways to engage with the stories we tell.

Our Core Values:

- ◆ PhilaLandmarks believes that historic preservation illustrates the value of what endures in our society, and that this inspires people to learn about history and engage with their community.
- ◆ PhilaLandmarks is committed to maintaining our properties and their collections for the long-term, so that they will remain public resources in the future.
- ◆ PhilaLandmarks wants our properties to be open and well-used by many different audiences in many different ways.
- ◆ PhilaLandmarks respects the uniqueness of each of our properties, and believe that their different programs, priorities, and places in their communities create great value for PhilaLandmarks and its visitors.
- ◆ PhilaLandmarks is thoughtful and foresighted stewards of the organization's resources and always encourage others to join us.

Message from the Chair

Gregory Montanaro
Chairman

In celebrating another highly impactful year, I want to thank our Board, House Committees, donors, and professional staff led by Jonathan Burton and Kayla Anthony for their contributions. I am thrilled that we have experienced our third consecutive year of financial growth.

An objective this past year was to activate our houses with quality programming that engaged our communities to build constituencies of donors and increased membership. We introduced new programs such as the PhilaLandmarks Early Music Series, various theatrical, art, and garden programs and strengthened partnerships through programmatic efforts with other likeminded organizations such as the Museum of the American Revolution, Historic Philadelphia, Inc., Hidden City Philadelphia, and Visit Philly, to name a few. In addition to cultivating relationships with new audiences, we also saw tremendous successes for our annual house fundraisers and organized two new fundraising events. The objective of these fundraisers was as much to raise needed revenue, as it was to produce new friends and members for PhilaLandmarks and our historic houses.

After the completion of the highly successful Hill-Physick House roof replacement project, we began to re-commit to our roots in advocacy of historic preservation, beyond the confines of our four houses. In particular, we have partnered to restore the Isaiah Lukens clock in Headhouse Square at 2nd and Pine Streets. But ever mindful of our own restoration needs, we have moved on to our own major capital improvement: the Powel House Restoration Project. This project, including a new roof for Powel, will secure the house for 100 years! We will then shift our focus to Grumblethorpe and Historic Waynesborough to begin the necessary capital improvements on the remainder of our houses.

I look forward to your support in sharing gratitude for what we have inherited, stewarding the houses while under our watch, and activating them with meaningful programs and activities so they are alive and part of our families and traditions.

Message from the Executive Director

Jonathan Burton
Executive Director

Leading up to the anniversary of our 88th year as a non-profit historic preservation institution in Philadelphia, I decided to look back at our early board minutes to gain inspiration from our founder, Ms. Frances Anne Wister. Through reading these minutes, I learned more about her as a person and how incredibly dynamic, creative, and passionate she was about preserving Philadelphia's built environment. Her hard work, tenacity and dedication to historic preservation established the Philadelphia Society for the Preservation of Landmarks, providing a solid foundation for future success for the benefit of Philadelphia and beyond. We as staff, committee members, volunteers, members and donors all contribute to her legacy as one of the leading preservationists in our city's great history.

Our collective hard work and commitment in fiscal year 2018 helped PhilaLandmarks finish our third straight year of positive earnings. We have sustained financial growth, expanded from three to five full-time employees, completed milestone preservation projects, and launched new projects to protect and preserve our historic assets. These accomplishments are all measurable, but the value of the community we have built together cannot be quantified, and it is what makes me the most proud.

Thank you to everyone who helped make our fiscal year 2018 such a success. I know I had a lot of fun and judging by all of the pictures in this year's annual report, you did too!

Upcoming Capital Projects

The Powel House is one of the finest examples of a Georgian townhouse in the United States. Built in 1765, it has stood witness to the most pivotal moments of our nation's history and is the only one of the great eighteenth-century mansions still standing in Old City proper. It was the home of Samuel Powel, the last mayor of Philadelphia under the Crown and the first mayor under the new Republic, and his wife Elizabeth – the ever-influential salonniere who captured the ear of General Washington.

In the 1930's our matriarch, Frances Anne Wister, was alerted to the proposed plan to demolish the house and sprang into action raising $30,000 at the height of the Great Depression to purchase the Powel House and the property next door. In her words: "the plight of the mansion, far from deterring us, aroused a determination to save it... rooms of noble proportions, and the last house in the 'Old City' where Washington was a frequent guest. It would have been a crime to destroy this historic mansion where the feet of so many patriots trod; a place which was the center for all the important people of the time in national and local history."

Today in 2019, we are looking to continue Frances's legacy by completing our first major restoration project in decades. Slated to begin on November 1, 2019 to avoid our busy season, we have reassembled the award winning architectural and carpentry team that recently completed the Hill-Physick House roof project (which earned us an Initiative Award in Stewardship from Preservation Pennsylvania) to undertake the project of restoring the Powel House. The scope of the project will include replacing the roof and restoring rafters, dormers, chimney, eaves, sill plates, windows and shutters; re-pointing of the building; and repainting of the façade.

Stay tuned for more information on this upcoming project!

Spotlight on Margaret “Pixie” Biddle and Jorja Fullerton

Two of our long time employees, Margaret “Pixie” Biddle, our Road Scholar Director and Jorja Fullerton, our Administrator, are retiring in fiscal year 2019. We thank them for their years of dedicated service to PhilaLandmarks. Without these two key players, our organization would not be what it is today. We will miss them! We asked them a few questions about what working for PhilaLandmarks was like and what they have ahead for the future.

How long have you worked for PhilaLandmarks?

PB: 23 years.

JF: 18 years.

Where did you work before PhilaLandmarks?

PB: Davidyan & Nichols Real Estate.

JF: I worked for an import/export shipping agency.

What is one of your funniest memories of working here?

PB: The electricity failure... every time. I would have the electric heater on and I would forget and run the microwave and I would trip the breaker. On numerous occasions Jorja would have to go to the basement to flip the switch.

JF: No memory in particular but the years that Matt Schultz worked there were a blast!

What was one of your proudest moments?

PB: When I cooked a lavish dinner of soup, roasted lamb and vegetables in the Hill-Physick catering kitchen. I served this dinner including cocktails to 18 Elderhostelers on our historic house program. We promised a dinner in an historic house but couldn't afford a caterer at the time.

JF: I'm not sure about my proudest moment but I always enjoyed doing anything that was creative like making those gala program booklets, nametags and all of the “artsy” stuff.

In your tenure at PhilaLandmarks, what has changed the most?

PB: We are now getting large grants and are able to do house restoration work thanks to Jonathan. The house committees seem to be more cohesive and unified.

JF: Just about everything!

What will you miss the most about working for PhilaLandmarks?

PB: The stairs!

JF: The awesome people!

What are you looking forward to in retirement?

PB: No longer having to be responsible for programs and groups.

JF: Not having to get up and go to work. Especially on those cold or rainy days!
