

Bloomsburg University of Pennsylvania
Sociology Program
Department of Sociology, Social Work, and Criminal Justice
Instructor level

Bloomsburg University of Pennsylvania invites applications for a one year temporary, full-time position beginning August 2018 (AA#45-7-343). Responsibilities include teaching 12 credit hours per semester (maximum of three course preparations per semester). The successful candidate must value undergraduate teaching and be able to teach: Research Methods, Race and Ethnicity, and an upper level sociology course (area of specialization is open). Minimum qualification is a Master's degree in Sociology with graduate level coursework in Research Methods and Social Statistics. Ph.D. in sociology and ability to teach Social Statistics and other lower level courses is preferred. Demonstrated ability to work with diverse populations is preferred. College level teaching experience is strongly preferred. Finalists for this position must communicate well and successfully complete a phone interview as judged by the department faculty. Recommendation for hiring is needed from the majority of the regular, full-time department faculty within the department conducting the search. Prior to a final offer of employment, the selected candidate will be required to submit to a background check including, but not limited to, employment verification, educational and other credential verification, Pennsylvania Child Abuse History Clearance and criminal background check. Completing this search is contingent upon available funding. For full consideration, application materials should be received by May 1st 2018. Position will remain open until filled.

Application Process:

Submit a cover letter addressing your qualifications and experience for the position, statement of teaching philosophy, curriculum vita, and unofficial transcripts (copies accepted) online to: <http://agency.governmentjobs.com/bloomuedu/default.cfm>. Additionally, three letters of recommendations should be directly sent from recommenders to SociologySearch@bloomu.edu. Questions may be directed to Search & Screen Committee Co-Chairs, Seokwon Yoon, syoon@bloomu.edu, or Megumi Omori, momori@bloomu.edu
