

Help Us Bring Some Life Back to The Courtyard Garden!

Our courtyard garden is looking a little unloved and we are appealing to our patients for help!

Supported by Binscombe Medical Trust, Practice Manager Emma Phillips and Dr Catherine Wilson, one of our GP registrars, are volunteering their time and “expertise” to rejuvenate the area so our patients have something nice to look at whilst waiting for their appointment.

As you can see from the photo the area is gravelled so our plan is to grow everything in pots. It can also get very hot so we need to use plants that suit this warm and dry environment that won't require too much watering, and that's where we need the help of our green-fingered patients!

Can you offer any advice on what's best to plant? Perhaps you have a similar situation in your own garden or are experienced when it comes to container gardening. Donations of unwanted plants or pots will also be gratefully appreciated!
