

IAU100: Under One Sky

Partnership and Sponsorship Opportunities

Celebrating a Century of Astronomical Discoveries

In 2019, the International Astronomical Union (IAU) is celebrating its 100th anniversary (IAU100). To commemorate this milestone, the IAU is organising a year-long celebration to increase awareness of a century of astronomical discoveries and technological progress as well as to support and improve the use of astronomy as a tool for education, development and diplomacy under the central theme Under One Sky.

The centennial celebrations will stimulate worldwide interest in astronomy and science and aim to involve the global astronomical community, national science organisations and societies, policy-makers, students, families and the general public.

The IAU100 activities will take place at global/regional levels, and especially at the national and local levels. To coordinate the initiative, the IAU has set up the IAU100 Task Force as well as the IAU100 Secretariat. This task force is preparing a comprehensive programme of Flagship initiatives to reach targeted audiences worldwide through the IAU National Outreach Coordinators and National Astronomical Societies, which will set up National IAU100 Task Forces to ensure the worldwide success of the initiative.
