

CANNIBALISM

Some scientist have found that cannibalism has been practiced during thousands of years, due to the analysis of bones and marks, for that reason they think, it was used in rituals or maybe, just because they were hungered, but in these days people keep practicing it?.

The word cannibalism was imposed by the conquistadors referring to people living in the Caribbean and ate human meat. Today in Africa people still practice cannibalism as a source to reach the gods or show the power of their leader. For many years several new cases of cannibalism have been found, the most recent was Armin Meiwes who through a cannibal website chat with a man who had the desire to be eaten and Armin would that be; Armin feed himself for 2 months with his friend.

Even here in Colombia, in the long history of macabre and violence a new chapter opens. The creepy episode was revealed two years ago during a hearing at a court in villa vicencio by some of its protagonist members of different factions of criminal gangs (Bacrim) acting and spent months at war in Meta and Vichada. For the judge and the people who were in villa vicencio it was hard to believe what they heard in the voice of the criminals. "We killed those guys; we sliced and cooked in a pan with onions and tomatoes". It was not a fantasy or mythical story of the war in the Colombian jungle. It was a true story that shows the level of degradation that has the armed conflict reached in the country.

Although many people take it as horrible and creepy, cannibalism was practiced by the oldest and greatest civilizations like Egyptians, romans and Greeks. It can be called for many inhuman in these days but those are ours roots.
