STRATEGIC PLANNING

While business planning focuses on the 'what and who', strategic planning describes the 'when and how' to achieve, and better still exceed, your objectives. A strategic plan may take a broader view that encompasses corporate values, mission statement and critical success factors, but may also focus on specific areas such as retaining customers or introducing a new product. Hence, your business may have several strategic plans depending on your need.

BUSINESS PLANNING

A business plan is a tool that allows you to be proactive with your business. It gives you directions, timelines, guidelines and how to measure and monitor them. We help analyse your business through a structured process. Our business plans include easy-to-follow action plans with follow-up sessions to monitor the success of your business plan.

PROCESS MANAGEMENT

Being in business is a process of continual analysis, learning and improvement. How can we do better for our customers while minimising waste of time and resources? How can we do it faster, better, safer, cheaper, easier? Lean management is about creating more value for customers using fewer resources. It fosters a culture of pursuit of perfection through transparent change that focuses on adding value to customers.

We will provide you with the right information about the best structure for your new business idea, assist with business plans, cashflow projections, budgets, company formation, and much more. We have the real-world experience and expertise to help turn your dream into a reality.
