

OCTOBER 20 TO 28

MONTCLAIR DESIGN WEEK 2018

WE ARE EXCITED YOU ARE JOINING US FOR MONTCLAIR DESIGN WEEK!

Our inaugural year, The Year of Messy Design, features more than 60 events and is expected to engage about 20,000 participants from throughout our community.

Good design is for all of us, so we've created a wide range of events, something for everyone. Check out the types of events offered, listed on the right, and then dive into all the particular ongoing and single-day activities, starting below. Most events are free and require online registration. Check for the most current dates and times for all events at www.montclairdesignweek.org. All events are available on a first-come, first-served basis. Please sign up as soon as possible. To buy tickets for the fundraising parties, go to montclairdesignweek.org. To buy tickets for the films, go to montclairfilm.org.

Unsure where to start? Drop by our headquarters, "the Hub," in Montclair Center. We're in the Madison Building at 427 Bloomfield Avenue, near the intersection with Glenridge Avenue. Come inside, ask questions at the MDW Info Desk, marvel at our Design Showcase and MAIC Exhibit, and hang out! We're there each day of MDW, 11:00 am to 2:00 pm, and 5:00 pm to 9:00 pm. Many events will take place at the Hub as well—check the schedule, and register today!

Come celebrate design and its power to mobilize and inspire each of us and our community to reach for a better future. We look forward to seeing you!

ONGOING EVENTS

➔ MDW DESIGN SHOWCASE

Sights Unseen

MDW HUB, MADISON BLDG.,
427 BLOOMFIELD AVE.

11:00 am–2:00 pm,
5:00–9:00 pm daily

Spotlighting the work of talents who live in, work in, or contribute to Montclair, Sights Unseen is Montclair Design Week's first ever showcase dedicated to uncovering what's new and next in design of all scales and disciplines. It's also a nod to our inaugural theme, The Year of Messy Design, in which we invite our community to think broadly and interpret works creatively. Featuring objects of design and innovation—from furniture, graphics, lighting, landscapes, and fashion to robotics, engineering, and user experiences—MDW's showcase presents a new story of design excellence, as told by our Montclair-area creatives.

➔ MAIC EXHIBIT

Montclair Accelerator for Incubating Communities

MDW HUB, MADISON BLDG.,
427 BLOOMFIELD AVE.

11:00 am–2:00 pm, 5:00–9:00 pm daily

On exhibit during the week is MDW's own design for a mobile hub, dubbed MAIC and pronounced make. Montclair Accelerator for Incubating Communities is designed as a multipurpose, fully customized room-on-wheels that can be used for year-round programming. Drawings, renderings, and a scale model tell the story of this roving beacon of discovery, creativity, and exploration. MAIC is a gift we hope to realize in the coming year, with the generous support of our community.

➔ PUB CRAWL

Drink in Design

Celebrate the art of mixology by visiting the local bars and restaurants that are participating in our cocktail competition. Their names and hours of operation are listed at montclairdesignweek.org. Try their Montclair-inspired cocktails! To vote for your favorite drink, take a photo of it, tag it with the bar's name, and post your photo on social media with hashtag #MDWDAC. Please drink responsibly.

➔ DESIGN FOODIES, REJOICE!

Special Goodies

Stop by our partners—Little Bear Poke, Montclair Bread Company, and Montclair Brewery—to sample specially designed MDW goodies! For hours of operation, please check their websites.

Appropriate dress and footwear required.

→ WORKSHOP

Printing With Victorian-Era English Textile Stamps

ADRIAN WILSON HOME STUDIO,
191 BELLEVUE AVE.

2:00–4:00 pm

Artist Adrian Wilson has collected 2,000 wood and copper fabric stamps that were once used on textiles exported from Victorian-era Manchester, England to around the world. He uses these stamps to create art at his award-winning Inutilious Retailer in New York City. This unique workshop provides everything you need to create art on canvas or T-shirts. Host: Adrian Wilson (Textile Trademarks).

→ "DESIGNING X" PANEL SERIES

Designing Spark

PSEG INSTITUTE FOR SUSTAINABILITY
STUDIES, MONTCLAIR STATE UNIVERSITY

7:00–9:00 pm

Come celebrate the people who creatively and thoughtfully shape the environments where we live, work, and play, and be a part of the dialogue about sparking curiosity and change in Montclair! Get inspired with us as we shine a light on all the individuals and organizations nominated for the AC² Awards, spotlight a few whose work delighted and surprised us, learn how they created a spark, and discover new opportunities for sparking curiosity and change from the diverse interests and talents of the Montclair community. Panelists: AC² Award nominees. Moderator: Kristine Ellis (Co-owner, Java Love).

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 21

Creative Kung Fu: The Fight to Design the Creative Life

BOBBI BROWN STUDIO,
8 LACKAWANNA PLAZA

6:30–8:00 pm

Are you overwhelmed by a regular struggle to bring order to your professional and personal lives? This workshop, designed for the creative’s mind, uses your unique viewpoint to assess and design your life. By session’s end, you will have strategies for designing an authentic life to take your creativity to the next level. Hosts: Regina L. Henry (Regina L. Henry Global), John Church (John Church III Photography).

➔ WORKSHOP

A Playroom Theory: Designing a Creative and Organized Kids’ Space in Your Home

THE VILLAGE MONTCLAIR, 123 WALNUT ST.

6:30–8:00 pm

Our kids’ rooms should inspire them, hold all their toys, and seem put together. Come draw inspiration from this unique and powerful collaboration between designer and owner of The Village Montclair, Alexandria Pavel, and home organizer Laura Bostrom, founder of Everyday Order. We hope to empower you to create the playroom of your family’s dreams, and keep it clutter-free for years to come. Hosts: Alexandria Pavel (The Village Montclair), Laura Bostrom (Everyday Order).

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 24

➔ WORKSHOP

KonMari Method for the Messy, Non-Minimalist Home

THE STUDIO AT 204 BELLEVUE AVE.

10:00–11:30 am

How do we know we have too much? What’s just enough? How we store and maintain things shows respect for our belongings. The KonMari method of organizing, made famous by Marie Kondo, emphasizes the curation of all things that “spark joy” and the importance of finding joyful ways (and places) to honor your treasured things. Host: Cassidy Nasello (FELT).

➔ WORKSHOP

D.I.Y. Zine Making: Purposes and Practice

THE CLASSROOM AT
MONTCLAIR PUBLIC LIBRARY,
50 SO. FULLERTON AVE.

6:00–8:00 pm

This workshop focuses on identifying potential purposes of zines, and practical executions. Participants collaborate to create and bind a zine of their own. We highlight the role of zine making in creative community exchange. Host: Nina Muccia (Designer, Oddo Body).

➔ PECHA KUCHA NIGHT

9 Brisk Talks About “Messy”

CRAZY MOCHA COFFEE,
491 BLOOMFIELD AVE.

8:00–10:00 pm

A fun, inspiring night out to hear speakers deliver thought-provoking content in a brisk format (20 images, 20 seconds per image). With Montclair Design Week hosting in its inaugural year, we’re featuring a topic close to our hearts: messy. We expect our first year to be one big, beautiful, spectacular mess. Think unexpected outcomes, collaboration, happy accidents, lateral thinking, paths less traveled, inspiration from strange places, open-endedness, improv—you know ... messy! MDW is pleased to start hosting a broader conversation about what it means to be creative in Montclair. We hope the chitchat never ends!

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 25

➔ WORKSHOP

Creating a Consistent Wellness Practice (ages 18+)

QWELL MEDITATION & WELLNESS STUDIO,
493 BLOOMFIELD AVE.

10:30 am–12:30 pm

➔ WORKSHOP

Living You Workshop

JOYIST, 617 VALLEY RD.

6:00–8:00 pm

A well-lived life is the culmination of all its parts. Our workshop takes you on a quest to discover who you are in mind, body, and (design) soul. Hosts: Blanche Garcia (B. Garcia Designs), KaraLynne Wolfe (Chelsea Square), Kacy Erdelyi (Juice Culture).

➔ WORKSHOP

Design Your Stance: A Movement Workshop on How We Stand and Why It Matters

YOGA MECHANICS, 107 FOREST ST., #3
7:00–9:00 pm

No one teaches us how to stand, and yet we are expected to exude strength, grace, and confidence. In this movement workshop, learn why it matters how we stand. Learn and create a conscious stance that can help you feel confident in your body. Host: Omni Kitts Ferrara (Yoga Mechanics).

➔ MDW/MONTCLAIR FILM SERIES

Mahogany (1975)

CINEMA505, 505 BLOOMFIELD AVE.

7:30 pm (running time, 1 hr 49 min)

This week's four films focus on the art of cinematic design. Tonight, Diana Ross plays a student who struggles with ego, reputation, and relationships after achieving overnight success as a model and then a fashion designer. Also starring Anthony Perkins and Billy Dee Williams. Directed by Berry Gordy.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 26

➔ STUDIO CRAWL

4:00–8:00 pm

Take a tour of this tantalizing mix of 16 Montclair design spots. Try to hit them all, or pick and choose, or stay at just one for the entire four hours. The order of your stops is up to you. There's much creative energy to discover in Montclair!

Books in Miniature

CREATIVITY CARAVAN,
28 SO. FULLERTON AVE.

Creativity Caravan's Amy Tingle and Maya Stein offer visitors an opportunity to design their own miniature books. Choose from three different book constructions, and fill these tiny tomes with your next big ideas. All materials supplied.

Buzzworthy Web Design

LFORM DESIGN, 42 PARK ST.

Visit Ian Loew and his studio for a cold beer and learn why good design makes all the difference to your bottom line. We'll walk you through what a good website design process looks like, and how your site can help move the needle.

Deconstructed Luxury

LITTLE NEST PORTRAITS, 54 SO. PARK ST.

Open 5:30–8:00 pm

Azie (Verdigreen), Anna (Blooms in Hand), and

Brittany (Little Nest Portraits) are collaborating to create a unique backdrop in front of Little Nest. Paint and gold leaf will be hand-layered on a canvas, naturally distressing it to an aesthetic of undone luxury. Orchids will be bared to their roots and suspended on a handwoven gold screen.

Design in Motion

JAVA LOVE COFFEE ROASTERS,
49 CHURCH ST.

Custom handmade bicycles provide a wonderful window on the design process, and randonneuring, the sport of ultradistance cycling, presents particular challenges to both builder and rider. Come learn from Paul Kramer about this sport and its events, and the role of design in the rides.

Design Perspectives in the M

WADE MAXX ART & FRAMING,
618 VALLEY RD.

Are you a designer, an architect, or a design resource? Come to Wade Maxx and leave your signature style on the Montclair Design Perspectives installation—a community piece that will be evolving throughout the week.

From DMV to TV!

BSTV ENTERTAINMENT, 16 LABEL ST., SUITE C
Tour a 10-time Emmy-nominated TV production company right here in Montclair. See how the former Division of Motor Vehicles inspection station was transformed into loft-style open office space, which includes professional editing rooms for screenings and an open concept kitchen.

Hope for the Flowers/ Homage to Pine Street

73 SEE GALLERY AND DESIGN STUDIO,
73C PINE ST.

On the hour (4, 5, 6, 7 pm), author Trina Paulus (Hope for the Flowers) will read from her new book, Chickens & Foxes. You can also view Nick Levitin's photography exhibition, Homage to Pine Street: The Art of Neighborhood. Nick's photographs, taken over a year, convey the vibrancy of this section of Montclair.

House Building!

COURTNEY ROMBOUGH ARCHITECT,
141 CENTRAL AVE.

Remember when architects used handmade models to show clients what their buildings would look like? Now building information modeling and 3-D printing are the tools of the trade. In this workshop, which shows how small tools can have a big impact, participants will model their own structures using 3-D pens or cardboard building blocks.

MDW Design Showcase

MDW HUB, MADISON BLDG.,
427 BLOOMFIELD AVE.

Three talks/demonstrations are taking place:

4:30–5:30 pm, Alex Gideon, Montclair High School Robotics Team Member
6:00–7:00 pm, Ruth Borgenicht, Artist/Ceramicist, Forager
8:00–9:30 pm, Peter Reynolds, Consultant and Architect, Eileen Fisher Apparel/DesignWork

Meet the Makers

THE VILLAGE MONTCLAIR, 123 WALNUT ST.
Alexandria Pavel, designer and owner of The Village Montclair, invites you to explore the space where many local established and emerging artists showcase their work. You'll have a chance to meet makers and may even catch someone working on a special craft. Hope to see you around The Village!

MESH Café

CHRIST CHURCH, 68 CHURCH ST.
6:30–8:30 pm

Drop by to see MESH (Montclair Emergency Services for the Homeless) in action and meet its executive director, Gwen Parker-Ames. Join in, have a meal, serve food, connect with folks. Every day, MESH helps our community by serving 25 to 30 meals to homeless and food-insecure people.

Micropark With Macro Dreams

WALNUT STREET PARKLET, IN FRONT OF RED EYE CAFE,
94 WALNUT ST.

Visitors will get a firsthand look at a community-driven "street reimagination" effort—a parklet. John Sullivan will make his studio there, and tell the tale of how a private-public partnership worked to create a public space that raises awareness of what mobility in Montclair could look like when people and places are put at the center of design.

People in the Steeple

HILLSIDE SQUARE,
8 HILLSIDE AVE., SUITE 209

Fanbrandz and Joe Zeff Design have offices in this building, which was once a church. Come see our design work on the 2018 World Series, magazines like Time and Fortune, the Stanley Cup playoffs, and AT&T's website.

Rewriting the Disabilities Narrative

CORNERSTONE MONTCLAIR,
198 BELLEVUE AVE.

People with disabilities aren't satisfied sitting on the sidelines. They find fulfillment in the same things we do. Perhaps most important, they like having friends and feeling welcome where they live. Cornerstone gives people of all abilities the chance to be a part of the vibrancy of Montclair. Stop in, grab some popcorn at The General Store, and check out the artwork at Arts Unbound and the rock wall at the Inclusive Movement Center.

Serious Beauty/ Elegant Mess

GOLD/SCOPOPHILIA,
594 VALLEY RD., THE MEWS

Scopophilia means "deriving pleasure from looking." Join us scopophiliacs as we sip wine amidst the works of Brooklyn artists Meg Lipke and Leah Tacha, who both derive serious beauty from an elegant mess. It's practically alchemy.

→ WORKSHOP

Improv for Designers

MIX LAB, ROOM 014,
FELICIANO SCHOOL OF BUSINESS,
MONTCLAIR STATE UNIVERSITY

12:00–2:00 pm

Improvisers and designers have a lot in common—they both create worlds out of nothing. If you're an architect, an artist, an inventor, or a design enthusiast, come learn how improv can stretch your imagination. Don't worry about being funny—let improv bring your craziest ideas to life! Host: Gary Rudoren (Montclair Film Festival Improv Instructor, Architect). Directions: Park at Red Hawk Parking Deck, exit on level 5, walk directly past soccer field and into basement level of Feliciano School of Business, pass Entrepreneurship Center, turn left, look for big red wall of MIX Lab.

→ DESIGN CHALLENGE

Just Food for All

MONTCLAIR PUBLIC LIBRARY,
50 SO. FULLERTON AVE.

12:00–4:00 pm

What could it mean to feed everyone in town

well? Join us to rethink what food comes to Montclair, where it originates, and how it gets to us. From farm shares to foraging and mutual aid, this workshop aims to develop creative and beautiful alternative visions of food, its distribution, and the well-being of us all.

→ MDW/MONTCLAIR FILM SERIES

Deathtrap (1982)

CINEMA505, 505 BLOOMFIELD AVE.

1:30 pm (running time, 1 hr 56 min)

This week's four films focus on the art of cinematic design. Tonight, Michael Caine is a playwright who tries to salvage his career by murdering a former student (Christopher Reeve) and stealing his unproduced, sure-hit script. Also starring Dyan Cannon. Directed by Sidney Lumet.

→ WORKSHOP

Play Lab Workshop

MIX LAB, ROOM 014,
FELICIANO SCHOOL OF BUSINESS,
MONTCLAIR STATE UNIVERSITY

2:30–4:30 pm

Participants emerge with a positive experience for designing one's future self. In a fast-paced format, creative instinct takes over as conformity is left on the sidelines and audience members pair with aging experts and end-of-life practitioners for an interactive exploration of real-life problems facing the elderly. Hosts: Caren Martineau (Bevival), Devorah Medwin (Emotional Fitness). Directions: Park at Red Hawk Parking Deck, exit on level 5, walk directly past soccer field and into basement level of Feliciano School of Business, pass Entrepreneurship Center, turn left, look for big red wall of MIX Lab.

Tickets are $50, with proceeds going to Montclair Design Week. Entry includes complimentary cocktails and light appetizers. Judges: Lucinda Sterling, Luke Parker Bowles, Warren Bobrow.

→ "DESIGNING X" PANEL SERIES

Designing Parenthood

MONTCLAIR WOMEN'S CLUB, 82 UNION ST.

4:00–6:00 pm

Parenthood can upend our lives in unexpected ways, but our panelists have found that it can be a unique source of creativity and innovation, especially during its most challenging moments. From revolutionizing the design of the pacifier to spearheading the transformation of a parking lot, these parents have redesigned products, businesses, and strategies with their children in mind. In the process, they are redefining what a "new family" destination Montclair can be. Panelists: Erdi Alev (Kwik Coffee Healthy Food), Ozi Okaro (Ikuzi Dolls), Nicki Radzely (Doddle & Co.), Madeline Ruiz

(Studio for Urban Architecture & Design).

Moderator: Hillary Frank (The Longest Shortest Time).

→ DESIGN DEN

Design Den at Nishuane Park

NISHUANE PARK, NISHUANE PARKING LOT
ON CEDAR AVE., NEAR FIRE STATION

10:30 am–12:30 pm

In our "Design Den" public program series, we invite the community to join us in open and inclusive conversations about some of the issues affecting Montclair. Your insights and stories will help shape our programming and initiatives for next year's Montclair Design Week. Note: Although there is no limit to number of guests, actual seating is limited, so please arrive early if you would like a seat.

Facilitators: Nina Cooke John, Laura Torchio.

After the Dust: An Insider's Guide to Surviving a Home Renovation

DESIGNER APPLIANCES,
208 BELLEVUE AVE.

12:00–2:00 pm

Join us for an insider's look at what's really involved in home renovation and renewal in Montclair. With homeowners and tradespeople, we'll have an interactive panel discussion on the nitty-gritty of renovation, including how to stay on budget, how to create a realistic time line, and regrets and wins. Hosts: Cinthya Gualpa (Designer Appliances), Amy Owens (Keller Williams).

→ KIDS ACTIVITY

Cardboard Creation Challenge

(ages 6–11)

ROTUNDA AT UNITARIAN UNIVERSALIST
CONGREGATION, 67 CHURCH ST.

2:00–4:00 pm

On this last day of Montclair Design Week, join us for some family fun as we get creative and build things. We'll have three different stations—cardboard-tube kaleidoscopes, structures and buildings, and clothing and costumes. Everything you create will have a chance to be showcased on our website! Host: Rebecca Irby.

→ MDW/MONTCLAIR FILM SERIES

The Velvet Goldmine (1998)

CINEMA505, 505 BLOOMFIELD AVE.

7:30 pm (running time, 1 hr 58 min)

This week's four films focus on the art of cinematic design. Tonight, Jonathan Rhys Myers, Christian Bale, and Ewan McGregor star in a story of a glam rocker who fakes his death and is exposed as a fraud, and the former fan who years later is writing an article about the idol's life and downfall. Directed by Todd Haynes. PA
