

NUST joins hands with Teach for Pakistan for a prosperous tomorrow.

Islamabad March 13, 2018, Teach for Pakistan (TFP) and National University of Science & Technology (NUST) signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) on Monday, forming a long term partnership to work together and tackle one of our nation's most pressing problems, of educational poverty and inequity for the country's children.

The memorandum was signed by Ms Khadija Bakhtiar, Chief Executive Officer, Teach for Pakistan, and Ms Arooba Gillani, Manager Placement, in the presence of Rear Admiral Dr. Nassar Ikram, Pro Rector Research, Innovation & Commercialization, NUST.

The MOU is mutually beneficial for both the organizations, it aims to facilitate NUST graduating students to participate in activities for Teach for Pakistan including applying to the Fellowship program.

About Teach For Pakistan

Teach For Pakistan is an independent Section 42 non-profit company registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission of Pakistan with headquarters in Islamabad, Pakistan.

Teach For Pakistan's mission is to recruit, train, and support outstanding Pakistani university graduates and young professionals to commit to a paid teaching Fellowship for two years in under-served schools and communities across Pakistan, and become leaders in the effort to expand educational opportunity for children throughout the country.

Teach For Pakistan aims to be nationwide, starting from the federal capital Islamabad, within the next five years.

For more information, visit our website: www.iteachforpak.org, or follow Teach For

Pakistan on Twitter @TeachForPak and Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/teachforpak/>