WFATT WORLD CONGRESS 2021 CALL FOR APPLICATIONS

We are looking forward to an outstanding 2019 World Congress May 11 – 12th in Tokyo Japan. Plans are well under way and we are very pleased with the sponsorship support from our members and the corporate community.

To ensure ample time for planning of the 2021 World Congress, we are sending out this call for applications. The Executive Committee of the WFATT looks forward to submissions from interested member organizations. We would be very pleased to work with the you in the development of the submission.

This upcoming World Congress and the one in Madrid enjoyed the support of our member organizations who supported the costs associated with a number of our guest speakers. We are currently working with a number of corporate sponsors for the ongoing support of our Congresses. All of this will substantially reduce the financial risk of the host organization and allow for a truly international slate of speakers.

The scientific theme is jointly decided upon by the hosting organization and the WFATT to ensure both international and domestic appeal.

Hosting the conference is also an ideal opportunity to advance the promotion and awareness of your organization domestically. Speakers will bring an international expertise that can be promoted to your membership and allied health organizations. Members of your WFATT executive are also available to the media etc to give your organization international profile at home.

Please see the attached application form and a draft budget grid for your information.

The target date for consideration of submissions is December 31, 2018.

I look forward to your response.

Sincerely,

Glen Bergeron Ph.D. CAT(C)
President
