HOW IS YOUR MANAGEMENT TRAINING WITH LOUIS VUITTON GOING?

So far it has been amazing! I have learned so much during the short time with the company. My first training rotation was in the Human Resources department in the head office in Dubai. I learned how to recruit employees, how to review CVs and how to assess and pick the right candidates. My second rotation, which I am currently in, is in the Beirut Store where I am undertaking a variety of operational duties like the daily opening and closing of the store. This duty requires patience and attention because I am dealing with detailed sales figures and reports. However, I am getting to know the brand more in terms of client telling and products... I am still learning,

WHAT ARE YOUR PLANS FOR THE FUTURE (2-5 YEARS)

My third rotation in Louis Vuitton's Management Training program will begin in about 8 months where I will have my own team to manage. Hopefully, once my MIT is complete, I will stay on with Louis Vuitton, as I see myself growing with this company and I see myself either working in the head office as an Human Resources Manager or as a store manager in one of their international locations.
