

The Greene County
Council on Aging presents:

2018 Fall

Friday, November 2nd

10:00am to 2:00pm

(Registration begins at 9:30am)

Xenia Community Center

1265 West Second Street, Xenia

(next to Council office)

Registration Fee: $5; includes supplies for sessions and a grab 'n' go lunch

Creative expression is great for our brains and great for our souls. And what's better than being creative? Being creative with others, having all of the supplies in front of you, and some patient and helpful people guiding you through.

We encourage you to join us for the Fall Creativity Expo which includes a choice of four creative sessions led by Council team members and partners. The final creations will vary, but we hope that everyone will enjoy themselves, make some new creative friends, and leave feeling inspired.

A photo and general description of each creation can be found on the following pages. So pick your favorites, complete and send in the registration form, and show up on the 2nd. Invite a friend to register, too!

*You can't use up creativity.
The more you use, the more you have.*

CREATIVE SESSIONS

Session 1

10:00am - 11:40am

Tabletop Wood Tree

Assemble this tabletop tree, and decorate it with an assortment of pinecones, berries, and other natural items.

Instructor: LB Fred

Clay Coil Bowl

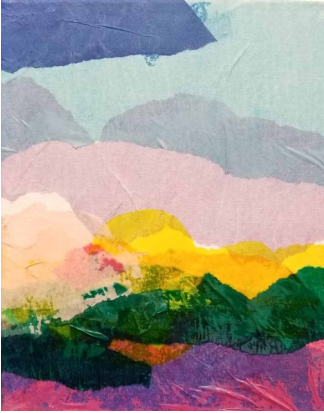

Simple coils of clay become more sophisticated when they're joined together to form a bowl. We'll add a splash of color to the other side. *Fired bowls will be available at a later date.

Instructor: Susan Finster

Session 2 12:10pm - 1:50pm

Colorful Canvas

Using art tissue, create a landscape or seascape. The tissue colors blend for a watercolor effect, but your piece will have more interesting textures.

Instructor: Lisa Quesne

Jute Wrapped Bottles

Take a bottle that's headed for the recycling bin and recycle it in a different way! Wrapped in jute and embellished with lace and ribbon, this decorative creation can also be used as a vase.

decoration can also be used as a vase.

Instructors: Janine Phillips & Daejanna Preston
